THE REBEL DEAD. Decerating the Graves.

We take the following from the Sayannah (Oa.) REPUBLICAN, April 17:
Yesterday afternoon was a sad and beautiful spectacle. The weather was not propitious for any out-door display, but the partons for any out-door display, but the claimy atmosphere and scowing, misty clouds did not in the least dampen the ardor of that boly affection, for we can call it nothing clse, which the people of the South, and particularly its devoted women, hold for the memory of their soldier dead. It was sad to me to resilize the dreadful reminiscences of size past, which were revived as the bells tolled their solemn funeral treats from the control of the cont into fail in a city containing 1,000,000 people at the bells toiled their solemn functal and superintendance.

The plan is feasible and eminently worthy of a fair trial. All that is necessary to ensure agement and superintendance.
